Didsbury General

Hospital Proving

a Success

The citizens of Didsbury and surrounding district will be pleased to learn that the recently opened General Hospital continues to serve the needs of the sick in the community, and even beyond the immediate vicinity. The hospital earnings for the month of November, as presented at the recent monthly meeting of the board, amount to $356.75, with a total of 96 1-2 hospital days. Several very severe cases have been successfully treated at the hospital during recent weeks, in fact the success attained is expressive of the efficient service the nursing staff and local physicians are able to give those who need hospital care and treatment. In spite of the abnormal difficulties with which the board have been confronted in their effort to secure necessary equipment and make necessary adjustments and repairs, the work of the hospital has proceeded with commendable success. The equipment of the hospital is now practically complete, including the operating room. A new well has been drilled, a pump and engine installed, as well as minor repairs to put the water system in good working order. A new chimney has been built and the heating system put in better shape for the comfort of patients and staff, all of which has meant considerable initial expense. But, with a continued generous support of the people of the Didsbury district, these expenses should soon be entirely provided for, and with the added support of the people of the community in directing those who need hospital care to the local hospital, the future success of this important institution in our midst is assured.

Didsbury Wins

Hard Game

It wasn't crokinole or parlor billiards nor a Bolshevistic uprising that took place at the Didsbury skating rink on Wednesday night last, but hockey fans might be led to believe that it was the former by the score of 8-10 which resulted from the game between Didsbury and Carstairs, and those who were not there might think it the latter. Both teams were even and had not been beaten this season, consequently the boys were out to cinch the matter and Didsbury came out on top.

In the first period both teams scored one a very few minutes after the game was called, but Carstairs then made some magnificent plays (Concluded on last page.)

Treatment of the "New" Canadians

In this column last week some comment was offered on recent speeches by Hon. T. A. Crerar, in which he deprecated the formation and encouragement of distinctly class movements in Canada, and offered words of advice and warning to people generally, and the farmers in particular, not to be led astray by new and untried men who were now espousing their cause since it had become popular and strong, but who held aloof from it in the days of stress and hard fighting when it was not so generally acclaimed.

This week we would direct attention to another notable speech, and one of equal timeliness, delivered by J. A. Maharg, president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association. Addressing a district Grain Growers' convention at Regina, Mr. Maharg emphasized the importance of continuing the educational work of the association, and not neglecting it for the new political movement. The people had decided, he said to try out a new method of election, but the old educational campaign was still necessary and always would be to ensure the success of the new movement. Endorsing the views expressed by Mr. Crerar, the president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers declared that if the new political party should develop into a class political organization, its usefulness would soon cease. "Therefore, the educational efforts of the parent association must be made to permeate through all classes," he added: "Support was being obtained from among all classes, and that support must continue to be merited in order to hold it."

The eagerness of those who had been active in the old political parties to join the new movement was commented on by Mr. Maharg, who declared that if that eagerness was genuine they should be welcomed. He pointed out that many of the adherents of the old political organizations had carried on the fight on behalf of the new party principles for many years, and it should not be forgotten that it was behind those bulwarks that the new party had been able to grow to its present stature.

Of particular timeliness, however, was Mr. Maharg's reference to the foreigners, so-called, in Canada and the attitude which the British-born and English-speaking people should adopt toward them, and he spoke with special reference to the new Franchise Act, which is to be drafted and passed at the next session of Parliament. Pointing to the fact that the South African war was brought about on account of an unjust franchise, he declared that in Canada we must be careful that no grievance of that kind was allowed to cloud the name of the Dominion. He stated that there were approximately two million "foreigners" in Canada, and that there were good and bad among them just as there were good and bad among the rest of us, and that while there had been reason to be critical of them in years past, the time had come when we would have to weld ourselves and all those who had come to our shores from other countries into one homogeneous whole if we were to prosper as a nation.

Discussing the national debt, Mr. Maharg said it amounted to approximately two billion dollars, and if, by any change, legislation should be passed which would tend to drive some of our foreign population out of the country, we would be placed in a very difficult position. It was, he said, only by developing our natural resources that we could hope to liquidate our indebtedness, and we could not, therefore, afford to drive away the labor that would enable us to do so. In this connection reference was made to railway extension work, for which large appropriations had been made, but which was retarded owing to lack of labor. "We need the foreigner who has come to make his home with us," said Mr. Maharg, and it is our duty to educate him in the exercise of the franchise.

People, particularly in Western Canada, should remember that it is largely because of the presence of these settlers from foreign lands that our population has grown to such an extent that these Western Provinces are now becoming a political power at Ottawa through our increased representation there, and through that increased representation we should, in the very near future, obtain reforms for which the West has long fought.

It has been through the presence and labor of these people that thousands of miles of new railways have been built, that our coalmines are operated, that waterworks, sewer systems, pavements, and other modern conveniences have been provided in our cities and towns. They have been of material assistance in carrying through our building operations, and have added enormously to the grain production of the prairie West. They are carrying their share of the burden of taxation from which this Western country is securing better roads and bridges, more schools, rural telephones and other services. In a word, they are a mighty factor in the growth, development and prosperity of the country.

In our intercourse with them, and in all our public policies, we should treat them, not as aliens, but as Canadians; instead of antagonizing them and so conducting ourselves towards them as to give them a real grievance, we should be kindly and considerate in our treatment, while at the same time firm in insisting upon them identifying themselves thoroughly with our Canadian institutions and adopting our national ideals. A policy of antagonism towards them, of rebuffs and disfranchisements, will get us nowhere. They will merely widen the breach and postpone the day of complete assimilation. But sympathetic consideration and fair treatment will make them loyal Canadians, while their children will forget that they were ever anything but Canadians.

Faint and Dizzy Spells. Weakness and Shortness of Breath.

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women become rundown and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

Attractive Winter Tours

During the summer months it is impossible for many Western Canadians to take a vacation. However, with the advent of winter, and harvest over, many are planning a trip for a few weeks, or possibly to spend the winter in a warmer climate. Some will go East to visit the old folks and spend Christmas at home, others may desire to visit the Pacific Coast, where outdoor sports can be enjoyed the year round, amid low lying hills, silver and blue sea, and lofty snow-crowned mountains, where flowers and shrubs, rare elsewhere in America, thrive. This trip can easily be extended to California, and a choice of a sea voyage, or train journey via the wondrous Shasta Route, is offered. This, combined with the 500 miles of scenic beauty through the Canadian Rockies, is unequalled anywhere in the world.

At San Francisco and Los Angeles Canadian Pacific Offices are maintained where visitors will be made welcome, and given assistance in securing rooms, cottages or hotel accommodation.

The Canadian Pacific Railway maintain an unequalled service to Eastern and Pacific Coast points, operating two solid through trains each way daily.

Florida also attracts a great many Canadians each winter, with its hundreds of ideal winter resorts. The abundant and delightful outdoor life of the Southern winter is the chief charm, and no attractive feature has been overlooked. Golf may be played upon dozens of the finest courses in the country, riding, driving, yachting, boating and bathing are some sports available almost everywhere.

Call or write today to any Agent of the Canadian Pacific and he will be pleased to give you full information, and plan your trip.

Elephants in the Indian army are fed twice a day. When meal time arrives they are drawn up in a line before little heaps of food. Each animal's breakfast includes ten pounds of raw rice done up in five two-pound packages. The rice is wrapped up in leaves and then tied with grass. At the word of command each elephant raises its trunk, and a package is thrown into its capacious mouth. By this method of feeding not a single grain of rice is wasted.

A Chance to Do Some Real "Home" Missionary Work

A thoroughly organized plan has been launched by the Executive of the Alberta Women's Institutes to carry on relief work for the drought stricken areas of Southern Alberta. Calgary will be the headquarters and in that city there has been opened up "The Alberta Women's Institute Relief Dept." From this centre clothing will be dispensed on application.

An appeal for help, has been sent out to the various Institutes and to residents in the cities and these have been responding nobly but it is necessary owing to the early cold snap that the work be carried on at full speed immediately. The Alberta Women's Institute will be glad therefore, to receive from any individuals, societies or communities any clothing, bedding household linen, money, etc. that can be spared. All money donations should be sent to the Provincial Secretary, Mrs. A. H. Rogers, Ft. Saskatchewan while bundles of clothing, etc. will be received at the relief rooms, Riley Block, Calgary. The clothing from this centre will be assorted and repacked and sent on to districts who have sent in for relief. The money will be spent on shoes, undergarments bedding, etc.

The plan is a thorough one. Each request is verified either by the President of the Institutes, school teachers, reeve, secretaries of municipalities, township councillor, relief fieldman bank manager, or clergyman. Although the response so far is splendid much more is needed and needed at once. Children cannot go to school because of lack of clothing and there is much suffering. This is a real chance to do some "Home Missionary" work and everyone is urged to act at once. A full account of donations received will be published in the press.

LIFE AT SEA.

Mrs. D. C. Eby.

No two articles written about life at sea would be exactly the same. No two voyages are ever alike. No two days even are exactly the same.

The scene changes from hour to hour with the sunlight—often from moment to moment—never twice absolutely the same, and yet always harmony of tints in sea and sky.

The sky turns blue, and everywhere are blue and white and green glory. A few hours later, perhaps, Nature dips her brush in drab and paints a gray world, a gray sky, a gray sea! Suddenly the sun breaks through the clouds again in misty splendor, and Nature once more dips her brushes in bright colors.

The scene on the deck changes also from hour to hour—the joyous romping children, the cosmopolitan crowd. Here is a group clustered around a phonograph, there one leaning over the rail watching a school of porpoise. Still another in the background is interested in some Mohammedans who are demonstrating an Arab dance.

Snatches of conversation in broken English come to one, as a woman grasps the arm of her neighbor with: "Come to dinner; maybe tomorrow seek!" Two men pass by, heads bent in eager study of the information cards to be filled out for the S. S. Co. "I cannot say, I a for-ee-nair," says one; "I A-mer-ee-can."

Many a Thrill in Ocean Travel. Nature is always and everywhere beautiful to the eye that knows how to see. But there are times on the ocean when she flings herself upon the imagination, and overpowers one with her excessive grandeur, as when the sun shines golden in the sunset rays, one living sheet of flame, and everywhere is glory and richness, or when the stars flash out one by one and the moon sheds across the sea a long yellow sheet of rippling light times when no one can translate her delicate magnificence into language.

God has made all this beauty and yet, perhaps, there is no place where one is made to feel more keenly that He is not known. Oh the sadness of it! Sunday is no different from any other day; the ladies go on sewing, and their dancing!

God made the day; the night also is His. He set all the borders of the earth, and made summer and winter.

His way is in the sea: His path in the great waters, but His footsteps are not known!

There is the little group of Syrians, Americanized and converted to Russelism, now going back to Jerusalem to propagate that false doctrine.

All Is Not Sunshine!

There are many disagreeable details in ocean travel!! It is not only an adventure of great excitement and romance, but also a succession of days and nights cooped up in small space at times uncomfortably cramped.

Your room mate may not be congenial. She may want the porthole closed when you want it open. She may be anything but refined or cleanly in her habits. The novelty of life at sea may lose its romance and become to you a monotonous dreary grind. Or, worse still you may become sea sick! The life at sea isn't worth living!!

There are also the unpleasant details of getting on and off the steamer. Such a crowd! Men and women often so pressed together that even an arm cannot be raised. Waiting there by the hour, holding your place, the vitiated air hot and stifling! Every now and then someone tries to push his way through to a better position. The perspiration runs in small streams down your back, and you wonder how much longer you can hold out.

When you rise next morning the wind sweeps wet and cold around the deck, and the sea is a dreary sheet of fog.

The old-time pleasure seeker and globe trotter is strangely absent this trip. He who travels now must have some serious purpose. There is the elderly lady who is making her fifth trip across in the interests of little Belgian children. There is a party of missionaries going to South Africa; a silver-haired grandmother, whose son was killed in the war, goes back to her native land to bring his children to America. A Belgian mother goes to search for her children who were left with their grandmother before the war. The many heart-breaking stories of the war tragedies that have touched many of these lives cannot be crowded into one short article!

All need God so much in their lives, and yet so few—so very few—know Him!

Occasionally a ship glides by us, lessens slowly into the boundless West, then sinks below the horizon and fades away into the Atlantic mist.

Life at sea! Beautiful, alluring, restlessness, ever changing! How comforting to be anchored to the Rock of Ages, with a peace divine in the heart that the storms of life cannot disturb!

Sir Robert Borden will retain the premiership but he will turn over the active work of leading the government to some other member of the cabinet. How long this arrangement will last is a question that is occupying the minds of his opponents.

After a moment, she placed her fingers on his arm. "Forgive me, Dave," she said. "I didn't mean to whine."
"You didn't whine," he returned, almost fiercely. "It's not in you. You are too good a sport. But there will be lots of whining in the coming months." Man-like, it did not occur to Dave that in that moment the girl had bid good-bye to her savings of a dozen years, and had merely looked up and said, "Forgive me, Dave, I didn't mean to whine." When he thought of it, long afterward, he had a sudden conviction that if he had realized then just how much of a brick she was he would have proposed to her on the spot. . . . And she would have laughed and said, "Now, Dave, don't spoil our fun with anything like that."

What she did do was to let her hand creep up his arm until she could tap his cheek with her second finger. "Is this all the entertainment you can think of tonight?" she bantered.

He glanced at his watch. "It's late for a theatre," he said, "but we can ride. Which do you say—auto or horseback?"

"I can't go horseback in these clothes, and I don't want to change," Dave pressed a button, and the omnipresent Chinese "boy" stood before him. "My car," he said. "The two-passenger car. I shall not want a driver." Then, continuing to Miss Morrison, "You will need something more than that coat. Let me see. My smoking jacket should fit."

In a few minutes they were threading their way through the street traffic in Dave's machine. Whatever had been his forecast of impending disaster, the streets held little hint of it. They were congested with traffic and building material. Although it was late at night, the imperious clamor of electric riveters rattled down from steel structures on every hand. Office blocks, with their rental space all contracted months in advance, were being rushed to completion by the aid of arc lights and double shifts. But presently the traffic thinned, and the car hummed through long residential avenues of comfortable homes. From a thousand unmasked windows came the glow of light; here and there were the strains of music. On and on they sped, until the city streets and the city lights fell behind, and the car was swinging alone a fine country road, through a land marked with streams and bridges, and blocked out with fragrant bluffs of young poplars.

At last, after an hour's steady driving in a delight of motion too keen for conversation, they pulled up on the brow of a hill. A soft breeze from the southwest, sensuous with the smell of spruce and balsam-of-gilead, pressed, cool and gentle, against their faces, and far to the southeast some settler's burning straw pile lay like an orange-red coal on the lips of the prairie, from which she blew an incense of ruddy gold and ochre, fan-shaped against the heavens. Behind them, to the north, far-away city lights danced and sparkled in the lap of the foot-hills, like diamonds strewn by some mighty and profligate Croesus. Dave switched off his lights, the better to appreciate the majesty of the night, and in the silence came the low murmur of water. There were no words. They sat and breathed it.

Suddenly, from a sharp bend in the road, flashed the lights of an approaching car. Dave was able to switch his own lights on again only in time to avoid a collision. The oncoming car lurched and passed by furiously, but not before Dave had recognized Conward as the driver. Back on its trail of dust floated the ribald notes of half-intoxicated women.

"Close enough," said Dave, when the dust had settled. "Well, let us jog back home."

They took the return trip leisurely, drinking in the glories of the night, and allowing time for the play of conversation. Bert Morrison was a good conversationalist. Her points of interest were almost infinite. And they were back among the street lights before they knew.

"Oh, we are nearly home," she exclaimed. "And honest, Dave, I wanted to ask you something. Why don't you get married?"

"I guess I'm too sympathetic," he answered, after a moment's pause. "And it wouldn't be fair—"

"Oh, can that. It's been warmed over once already. Really, though, why don't you?"

"Why should I? It's natural. And you know you can't go on always just putting it off. It leaves your life empty. Tonight, when I asked you if you had had dinner, you said, 'Such a meal as a man eats alone.' That betrays the emptiness."

"I suppose it does. But I don't know many girls. I don't know any girl very well, except you, and you wouldn't have me."

"No, I wouldn't," she answered frankly. "I like you too well. But you know other girls, and you could get to know more if you wanted to. There's Edith Duncan, for instance."

"Edith is a fine girl. The Duncans are wonderful people. I owe to them almost everything. But as for marrying Edith—"

"Why not?"

"I don't know. I never thought of it that way. She's a fine girl."

"None better," said Bert, with decision. "Dave, I'm not much on orthodox religion, as you know, but that girl's got something on me. She has a voice that would make her famous on the stage, but she uses it all the time, as she says, 'in the service of the King.' I think she's narrow on that point, but I know she's sincere. Edith has had a great sorrow, and it makes her nobility stand out, pure and wonderful, like a white gem in a black setting. It seems to be the law that one must rub shoulders with sorrow before he really begins to live. And any afternoon you can find her down in the children's ward, singing with that wonderful voice to the little sick sufferers."

"I know about her sorrow," said Dave as though confessing a profound secret. "She told me about her little brother being killed."

It sprang to Bert's lips to say, "Oh, what's the use?" but she checked herself. They were at the door of her boarding-house. As he helped her to the sidewalk Dave stood for a moment with her hand in his. He had long liked Bert Morrison, and tonight he was powerfully drawn toward her. He knew—what she would have most strenuously denied—that her masculinity was a sham. Her defiance of convention—rambling like a fellow bachelor into his apartments—her occasional profanity and occasional cigarette—these were but the cloak from which her own deep womanhood was forever peering forth. He felt impelled to kiss her. He wondered if she would be angry; if such a fami-

Old Folks' Coughs, Catarrh, Bronchitis Quickly Cured

This Tells of a Method That Cures Without Using Drugs

Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly. That is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia.

Cough Syrup seldom does much good because they upset digestion. Any doctor knows that a much more effective treatment is "CATARRHOZONE," which heals and soothes the irritated surfaces of the throat.

In using Catarrhozone you do not take medicine into the stomach—you simply breathe into the throat, nose and lungs rich piney balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

The germ-killing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached and harm would result through benumbing the stomach with drugs.

A Catarrhozone inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first sneeze. Large size costs $1.00 and supplies treatment for two months; small size, 50c; trial size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

arity would obstruct their growing friendship. He felt sure she would not be angry, but she would probably think him foolish. And man cannot endure being thought foolish by woman.

"Oh, I almost forgot," she said as they parted, as though she really had forgotten. "I was at a reception today when a beautiful woman asked for you. Asked me if I had ever heard of Mr. David Ellen."

"What, Dave Ellen, the millionaire?" I said. "Everybody knows him. He's the beau of the town, or could be, if he wanted to." Oh, I gave you a good name, Dave."

"Thanks, Bert. That was decent. Who was she?"

"She said her name was Irene Hardy."

CHAPTER TWELVE

Upon the return of Irene Hardy to the East it had slowly become apparent to her mother that things were not as they once had been. There were various vague stirrings of uneasiness, but perhaps the most alarming manifestation was the strange silence in which the girl enveloped herself.

It seemed as though she had left part of her nature behind—had outgrown it, perhaps—and had created about herself an atmosphere of reserve foreign to her earlier life. It seemed as though the loneliness of the great plains had settled upon her. The old virility had been sobered; the gaiety of her girlhood had ripened into a poise more disturbing to Mrs. Hardy than any conventional excess could have been. She sought her own company; she tolerated social engagements in which she had previously found delight. And, most sinister of all, she showed no disposition to encourage the attentions which were ready enough in the offering.

The Petroleum Belt

The more the supply of coal becomes uncertain, the more is attention drawn to the world's petrol supply. A French journal remarked recently that, if the prognostications of a mining engineer in Kashmir were well founded, the Old World's petroleum belt extended from western Europe to the Malay Archipelago. There is oil in Scotland; it has been discovered recently in England; it is also to be found in Alsace. The Rumanian wells are among the most important in the world; then, geographically, comes the Russian supply, the Caucasian, Persian, and that of the Indus valley. On the other side of India petroleum is met with in Assam, Burmah and Sumatra. If, then, oil is actually to be found on the southern slopes of the Himalayas, the geographical continuity of the supply will be found unbroken.

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shrivelled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

Women Are Indignant

Strong Feeling in England Against Immigration Rules

The London Daily Express asserts that there is a strong feeling being manifested among women immigrants going into Canada against the revised regulations for stricter medical inspection and compulsory guardianship by Canadian government conductresses.

Col. J. Obad-Smith stoutly defends the regulations as being entirely in the interests of both Canada and the immigrants, and says the Imperial government is fully in accord with the Canadian government in the matter.

Huge Sum Required For Military Use

Ottawa, Ont.—Though Canada is back to the basis of peace, it may be deemed necessary to spend as much as $25,000,000 next year for military purposes. Estimates of the Militia Department are now under preparation, and the total stated covers the anticipated outlay upon the militia.

It is an increase of $13,000,000 compared with the ante-war period. The cost of materials, food, etc., is almost wholly blamed for it.

A report will be presented shortly as to the future of the Canadian militia, what units will be maintained and what ones discarded.

The carrying out of this plan will depend much upon the extent to which the pruning knife is applied to the draft estimates when revised by the treasury board and the government.

Coal Strike Settled

Men Will Return at Once With Increase of 14 Per Cent. in Wages

Indianapolis.—The strike of 400,000 bituminous coal miners of the country was settled here, when the general committee of the United Mine Workers of America agreed to accept the plan offered by President Wilson.

The plan provides that the miners shall return to work at once at an increase of 14 per cent. in wages; that a commission of three persons be appointed to investigate and determine within 60 days, if possible, a basis for a new wage agreement. The conference was made up of international and district officials and members of the executive board and scale committee of the organization.

Flight Between Australia and England

Captain Ross Smith Wins Prize of £10,000 for Successful Performance

Port Darwin, Australia.—Captain Ross Smith, the Australian aviator, has arrived here from England, thus winning the prize of ten thousand pounds sterling offered for the first aviator to make the voyage.

Under the conditions laid down by the Australian government when it offered a prize for making a flight from England to Australia, the distance of 11,500 miles had to be covered within 30 days. Captain Ross Smith left Hounslow aviation field, near London, at 9 o'clock, November 12, on his flight to Australia. On November 18 he reached Cairo, and on November 19 continued his flight, reaching Delhi, India, on November 23. From there he continued east until he reached Rangoon, turning southward at that city, making a number of stops along the Malay Peninsula and in the islands of Oceania. He arrived at Bima, on Sumbawa island, near Java, on the evening of December 7.

Port Darwin is near the northernmost tip of Australia, being near the town of Palmerston.

To Prevent Liquor Importation

Manitoba Social Congress Wants Government Control of Sales

Winnipeg.—In a resolution adopted by the Social Congress of Manitoba, in session here, an appeal was made to Premier Norris and the provincial government for legislation to prevent the importation of liquor into Manitoba.

Government control of all liquor sales and other phases of the liquor problem also were discussed at length, but action was referred to a resolution committee, which will report to the congress before adjournment.

London.—The trades union congress in session adopted a resolution calling upon the government to consider immediately peace overtures of the soviet government and raise the blockade between Russia and the outside world, and demanding the right for an independent inquiry into political industrial and economical conditions in Russia.

The resolution also instructs the parliamentary committee to appoint a delegation to visit Russia.

Consider Protection Of Three Nations

Would Surrender To the Allies

Ex-Crown Prince Rupprecht Is Now Ready for Extradition

Munich.—In a letter addressed to the president of the Bavarian Red Cross, former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, who commanded German armies in Belgium and France during the war, and who is in Switzerland, offers to surrender himself in response to the demands of the entente for the extradition of German army leaders, provided that his action will bring about the release of German prisoners in France.

The former crown prince says the demand for extradition, in view of the fact that the judge and prosecutor are one, "is a mockery of every sense of justice." He volunteers, however, that if the entente insists upon the fulfillment of the extradition clause in the peace treaty before the German prisoners are released that he will present himself for extradition.

Thinks Allies Are Conciliatory

Tangible Concessions Are Contained in Entente Notes, Says a German Paper

Berlin.—The entente notes are more conciliatory in tone than has been previously assumed, says the Volks Zeitung.

"They contain tangible concessions, the final clause of the protocol providing that the entente could at any time take military action against Germany, has been dropped. Negotiations also can take place regarding certain modifications in the protocol concerning the surrendering of the dry docks."

London.—Influenza microbes have a regular program by which they recur in cycles of 33 weeks, according to the medical research committee. The next call is expected in January and February, it is said.

Paris.—Premier Clemenceau's approaching visit to London, which will place him in the British capital at the same time with Foreign Minister Scialoja, of Italy, has given rise to speculation here of the possibility that questions of importance to Great Britain, France and Italy will be discussed there. These would have to do, it is suggested, with the taking of measures for the protection of the common interests of these three nations in question, in case the United States does not ratify the peace treaty or the League of Nations does not begin functioning shortly.

There is even talk of the possibility of the forming of an alliance, with the object of securing the execution of the German treaty and affecting other subjects on the League of Nations program.

Needs Rich, Red Blood to Regain Health and Strength

Many children start school in excellent health, but after a short time home work, examinations, hurried meals, and crowded school rooms cause their blood to become weak and thin, their nerves over wrought and their color and spirits lost. It is a great mistake to let matters drift when boys and girls show symptoms of nervousness or weak blood. They are almost sure to fall victims of St. Vitus' dance, or drift into debility that leads to other troubles. Regular meals, outdoor exercise and plenty of sleep are necessary to combat the nervous wear of school life. But it is still more important that parents should pay strict attention to the school child's blood supply. Keep this rich and red by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills according to directions, and the boy or girl will be sturdy and fit for school. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Pearl G. Harrington, Kingsville, Ont., who says: "I have often felt that I should write you and let you know what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me. At the age of thirteen I was afflicted with St. Vitus' dance. The trouble became so severe that I had to be taken from school. I was given medical treatment, but it did not help me, in fact I was steadily growing worse. Then a friend advised my mother to give me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which she did, with the happiest results, as the pills completely cured me and I was again able to take up my studies and attend school. Again about three years ago I was attacked with nervous prostration and once more took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using five boxes was fully restored. I cannot praise these pills too highly, as I believe they will cure any case of St. Vitus' dance, or restore anyone who is weak, nervous or run down.

You can safely give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to the most delicate child, or take them yourself with equally good results when you need a blood tonic. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Turning Stock Ranch to Farms

A large Block of Alberta Land Changes Hands

An Alberta land deal involving the sum of approximately $330,000, has just been completed. This sum has been paid by several farmers from the eastern states for about 15,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Olds, about 75 miles north of Calgary.

This land has been used for the last twenty years for ranch and grazing purposes, but it is one of the signs of the agricultural development of Western Canada that the immense cattle and horse ranches of olden days are being gradually broken up and the land turned to the raising of grain and field crops in conjunction with livestock and poultry.

It is understood that the new owners will start development work immediately and will convert the property into a mixed farm. The land already cleared will be put into crop and the rest of the holdings will be cleared. Livestock will be raised extensively, and if the racing game develops in Alberta it is probable that thoroughbred horses will form a branch of the farm's activities.

Some tailors would make excellent cavalymen; they are natural born chargers.

Stop the Cough.—Coughing is caused by irritation in the respiratory passages and is the effort to dislodge obstructions that come from inflammation of the mucous membrane. Treatment with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will cease. Try it, and you will use no other preparation for a cold.

Keep Fit For Success In Life

BY DR. A. B. BARCOCK.

You can take your boy and out of him make anything you like if you can get him under good self-discipline. All roads are open to the man who is strong and fit. Uncle Sam took "our boys"—those slabsided, stooped, hollow-chested youths—and made of them vigorous, well-developed, well set-up and courageous men. Take the right way! Train yourself and your children to take proper exercise, drink plenty of water and keep the system clean. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a common cold or headache to the most serious illness may result from the absorption of poisons in the intestines.

The first principle is to keep the system clean. Occasionally see that the boy or girl, as well as yourself, has an internal bath. It may be with castor oil or a tiny pill of Mayapple, aloin and jalap, which is sold by druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

If a cold starts with a cough and it persists, then some local treatment for this condition should be taken. A well-known alternative extract which has been on the market for a great many years, and which has been highly recommended by thousands of users, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic compound is composed of an extract of roots and herbs, without alcohol, and has a soothing effect upon the mucous membrane, allays the irritation and at the same time works in the proper and reasonable way, at the seat of the trouble—the stagnated or poisoned blood.

WHY YOU SHOULD BUILD ONLY FROM PLANS

Every building you put up this year and from now on should figure largely in your future.

Whether it be a new house or only a machine shed it will help you make money by saving it.

Just how much it will help depends on how well it fits into your needs now and later.

If you go ahead and build without any plan or any reference to future years and needs you are very likely to find that in a short time the building doesn't fit and you have to re-model, enlarge or build new.

WHATEVER YOU DECIDE TO BUILD GET A PLAN FOR IT, WE MAKE THEM FREE.

And just because it is a FREE service don't think that it isn't worth anything.

These plans are made to fit your ideas and your needs
They are made so that your buildings will be strong and durable and cost the least that they can be made to cost and be built right.

building see us at once for plans as well as material.

Didsbury Wins Hard Game

and scored four more and Didsbury did not get a look in. Gloom reigned supreme among the local fans at the end of the first period. In the second a decided change became apparent and Didsbury rushed in four, tying the score. After that it was anybody's game to the finish, and it was some hockey. The Carstairs bunch are a fast, heavy set of players and Hall and Macleod are certainly stars at the game. Both teams did some hard checking and both visitors and locals are to be complimented on keeping an even temper and there was no trouble.

The Didsburyites certainly played the game, and although their combination work was broken up, their fast rushes down the ice kept the visitors fully occupied and the game was fast and furious until time was called.

The Carstairs team was attended by a fine, lusty bunch of rooters while the locals were also well supported, and between them both they kept anybody from going to sleep.

On January 3rd, the film, "Aucpicture that caused so much discussion among the clergy of Calgary.

The picture should be exceptionally good.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Ethel Burgess was hostess at a "linen shower" in honor of Miss Frances McLean of Calgary, who is soon to be married to Rev. J. McGovern of Aberdeen, S. Dak. Miss McLean's many friends regret her impending departure, but extend their best wishes for a happy future.

The concert given in the New Opera House by the High School Literary Society Friday evening was thoroughly enjoyed by a capacity house. Every number on the bill was good and the members of the Society deserved all the patronage they received. The excellence of the concert assures the young people of a large attendance at any future effort.

One morning last week when some of the planets were billed to pull off a big show, some Didsbury gentlemen saw in the sky what they said
"looked like three big sun dogs."
We do not for a moment question the veracity of these gentlemen, nor do we mean to cast any reflections on their excellent characters, but we do suggest that they either change the brand or switch off on to two percent.
